Arafura Launches New Website

19 September 2017

Arafura Resources Limited (ASX: ARU) (“Arafura” or “the Company”) is pleased to announce the launch of its new website.

Following a domain security upgrade, Arafura’s website URL is now <https://www.arultd.com>.

Features of the new site include:

- developed and optimised for mobile devices, making it more user-friendly and accessible;
- refreshed corporate, technical and market content that reflects the Company’s sharpened focus on developing its 100 per cent-owned Nolans Neodymium-Praseodymium (NdPr) project in the Northern Territory;
- a corporate presentation on the home page that provides a high-level summary of Arafura, the NdPr market opportunity, and the Company’s plans to commercialise the Nolans NdPr project;
- rolling newsfeed linking to relevant media; and
- social media links for Arafura’s Twitter account and YouTube channel.
