Payments to suppliers down 32% on PCP reflecting cost restructuring

Export partnering discussions progressing, purchase orders received in January

New products launched, with Lazer Fuel gaining market momentum, and increasing demand for new genetics

30 January 2026 – Cann Group Limited (ASX: CAN) (Cann or the Company) is pleased to provide its Quarterly Activities Report and Appendix 4C for the quarter ended 31 December 2025 (Current Quarter or CQ). The prior quarter is 30 September 2025 (Prior Quarter or PQ) and the previous corresponding period is the quarter ended 31 December 2024 (PCP).

QUARTERLY CASHFLOW RESULT

The Company reported its first-ever positive free cash flow quarter, with positive net cash from operating activities of $0.186 million, taking the year to date to a small outflow of $0.012 million. This quarter included:

- Receipts from customers of $2.056 million, down 34% on PQ, largely driven by seasonal delays in receipts over the Christmas period and a softer trading environment

- Payments to suppliers & staff of $3.583 million were down 32% on PCP, up 13% on PQ, as the Company increased creditor payments this quarter following the successful refinancing whilst remaining stringent cost control
- This quarter included $1.777 million received from the ATO for the FY25 R&D Tax Credit refund (typically received in Q2 as the chart below shows)
- An amount of $0.14 million was paid to Directors (including the Managing Director) as related parties

The chart below demonstrates the continuing improvement in operating cash flows since the start of FY2023, as the business targets sustainable positive cash operating cash flows:

DEBT RESTRUCTURING COMPLETED

This quarter, Cann Group successfully completed its previously announced debt restructure as of 15 December 2025. The Company paid NAB $15.3 million under a forbearance and settlement deed, in return for NAB releasing all security and extinguishing all remaining liabilities on facilities that previously totalled about $70 million. To help fund this payout, Cann secured a new $9 million loan from an existing private credit lender, increasing total borrowings with that lender to $14.45 million, plus a further $0.31 million in costs were capitalised. The loan has a two-year term, carries 9.5% annual interest payable monthly, plus additional capitalised interest and fees payable at maturity. Cann also raised $9 million (before costs) through a shareholder-approved equity raising, comprising a two-tranche placement and a share purchase plan.

COMMERCIAL UPDATE

The Company continued to broaden its Botanitech product portfolio this quarter, launching three new flower SKUs, including the new cultivars Poppin Fresh and Berry OG, alongside two new gummies (Dreams and Delights) designed for patient segments seeking balanced formulations with minor cannabinoids. These launches have been well received by both prescribers and patients, with strong market feedback highlighting quality, consistency, and clinical appeal.

Subsequent to the end of the quarter, Cann has experienced a notable uplift in demand for its premium Lazer Fuel cultivar through a key partner's Heritage Range. This increased traction has further strengthened confidence in the quality, reputation, and ongoing demand for Cann's flower portfolio.

Cann remains focused on expanding its international footprint, with significant progress made this quarter toward establishing contractual partnerships enabling entry into two European markets. The Company has now advanced to purchase order discussions, which are expected to be finalised in the current quarter, representing a meaningful step toward export-led growth.

While broader market conditions remained competitive during the period, impacting December quarter revenue across branded, bulk flower, and white-label products, Cann continued to take decisive steps to position the business for sustainable growth. Industry-wide dynamics, such as oversupply, pricing competition, and heightened regulatory and prescriber scrutiny, influenced near-term demand across the sector. In parallel, the Company's successful completion of its debt restructure and capital raising marked an important milestone, strengthening the balance sheet and providing a platform for renewed commercial focus.

In response, Cann completed a comprehensive review of its commercial strategy during the quarter, delivering several positive outcomes:

- Prioritisation of high-performing sales channels, with increased focus on reliable, compliant distribution and prescriber networks that support sustainable growth and margin integrity
- Refined customer segmentation, concentrating on customers and distributors aligned with Cann's long-term strategy and consistent ordering patterns
- Reactivation of key strategic partnerships across distribution, telehealth, and white-label networks
- Continued investment in long-term customer relationships, driving more regular and predictable order flows across bulk and packaged flower products

The Company has also implemented initiatives to further strengthen operational performance, including improvements to supply chain reliability, vendor cost optimisation, and accelerated new product pathways. Notably, a new sales channel for waste trim has been established, with initial orders received, generating incremental revenue while reducing waste treatment costs.

PRODUCTION

Production is now back to full capacity following the seasonal scale back during the winter period, with a stable operating cadence established and consistent product quality being delivered. The cultivation program has been expanded with the successful integration of two new cultivars, Lazer Fuel and La Bomba ESE, which now form part of the regular crop cycle alongside established varieties. Additional new genetics are being introduced on a staged basis, allowing for careful assessment of market acceptance and suitability to local growing conditions.

INNOVATION

The Company's collaboration with La Trobe University continues to progress, with ongoing development of a hyperspectral camera system that leverages AI-driven analytics to continuously monitor crops, measure key performance indicators, and identify potential plant health risks.

Cann has also entered contracts for a carbon dioxide recycling initiative, which will capture exhaust from the gas boiler and redirect it to the cultivation environment. This project is expected to reduce both operating costs and emissions.

An evaluation project investigating the use of vacuum microwave dehydration has been initiated to assess its effectiveness in reducing bioburden in dried flower.

REGULATORY

A TGA audit of the Company's GMP system was completed during the period, with no major or critical findings reported. The ODC also completed an inspection of the facility, identifying a single issue of concern relating to a one-off deviation from standard operating procedures. The matter was not systemic in nature, and a process change has since been implemented to prevent recurrence.

OUTLOOK

The recently completed debt restructure has materially strengthened the Company's balance sheet, improved liquidity, and enhanced Cann's ability to execute strategic priorities. Combined with previous cost restructuring and improving margins, Cann is well placed to deliver high-quality, competitively priced, product to the market which is expected to drive revenue and EBITDA growth.

Customer confidence in Cann's operations and brands is improving, with increasing orders for new flower cultivars and positive partner feedback. The planned launch of a new product range and a renewed focus on high-demand flower SKUs are expected to support Botanitech brand performance and revenue in the second half of FY26.

The Company continues to invest in long-term relationships with key bulk and packaged flower customers, which are beginning to translate into regular large-volume orders. Progress has also been made in advancing the export strategy, with the Company expecting to commence dried-flower exports in the second half of FY26. Demand for Cann's new genetics has also resulted in sales orders in January.

Notwithstanding the above, and following a strong Q1 revenue result which saw a 16% increase on the prior quarter, the Company has experienced an unexpectedly softer Q2 revenue outcome. As a result, the Company's previously stated FY26 revenue guidance of $17 million is now under review.

The Company plans to provide updated revenue and EBITDA forecasts in its next quarterly report, at which time the impact of the positive momentum observed in late December and January is expected to be more reliably quantifiable. Notwithstanding this, with gross margins now tracking well above 50% and operating costs remaining well controlled, the Company continues to expect to achieve breakeven EBITDA for the second half of FY26.
