Crosslands Resources Limited – Jack Hills Update

MACA Limited ('MACA') (ASX: MLD) advises that mining operations at Jack Hills remain suspended due to regional flooding, preventing delivery of key supplies along the main access road. An inspection of this road is scheduled to take place today and provided there are no further heavy rains, MACA anticipates operations will recommence in the near future.

MACA will keep the market informed of any significant developments including the restart of operations once this occurs.
